

Earnings Disclosure

NHS England requires that the mean net earnings of doctors engaged in the Practice is publicised by 31 March 2016 at the latest. However, it should be noted that the prescribed method of calculating earnings is potentially misleading because it takes no account of how much time doctors spend working in the Practice and should not be used for any judgement about GP earnings, nor to make any comparisons with other practices.

In response to this request, we can confirm that the average pay for GPs working at Alexander House Surgery to deliver NHS services to patients in the last financial year was £58,376 before tax and National Insurance. This is for 1 full time GP and 6 part time GPs who worked in the Practice for more than six months.

Information Correct as of March 2016